

Dogs Already Frolicking in Their New Digs at Curtis Hixon Waterfront Park in Tampa

Tampa's newest and scenically located dog park has been a hit with downtown's canine residents, who run, chase, fetch and romp in their very own safe, durable play space made possible by K9Grass and ForeverLawn of Tampa Bay.

Tampa, Florida (FLTB) February 5, 2010 – It's not just the people who are raving about the new Curtis Hixon Waterfront Park in downtown Tampa. Their pooch pals are smiling, too, because they now have a place of their own to play with ForeverLawn of Tampa Bay's K9Grass, artificial grass designed specifically for dogs.

Throughout the day, dogs and their owners visit the park for outside playtime and exercise on K9Grass that blends effortlessly into the surroundings that include the new museum, the Hillsborough River, and the University of Tampa minarets. Dogs chase one another across the grass with rubber balls, jump atop cylinders, and take breaks to lap from canine water fountains.

K9Grass features a knitted flow-through backing, durable blades, antimicrobial protection, and a no-infill design. It is the ideal grass surfacing option for dog parks like downtown Tampa's, kennels, dog boarding and pet facilities, and vet clinics. Intended for use both indoors and out, it is safe, drainable, cleanable, and durable.

Earlier this year, the Lakeland SPCA chose K9Grass for its adoption facility, and has been pleased with the results that eliminated muddy and sandy messes caused by the dogs entering and leaving the kennels. Throughout Hillsborough and surrounding counties, residents have selected K9Grass for the four-legged members of their families for the comfort, durability, and cleanliness of the product.

K9Grass is endorsed by the world's tallest puppy, Brewster, a harlequin Great Dane, who succeeded his father, Gibson, the world's tallest dog who died last year of canine cancer, as K9Grass's spokesdog.
